

FOR PRESIDENT IN 1888,
JAMES G. BLAINE, OF MAINE.

Subject to the decision of the Republican National Convention.

"We always have the American flag above us and not below us."—James G. Blaine.

The victim is a fragile child, whose mother died only a few days before the crime was committed. At the time of Coates' arrest there was strong talk of hanging him. The penalty in this State for the crime of which he was convicted is death.

Booming California.

CHICAGO, October 15.—A lecture on "California, the Wonderland," was delivered in Lake suburb this evening by Ralph E. Hoyt, President of the California Co-operative Colony, to a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Hoyt entertained his audience with a variety of facts concerning the resources, growth, products, climate, people and business of California, with which he had become familiar by a sixteen-month residence and observation on the Pacific coast, to which place he moved from Englewood with his family. Numerous residents of Englewood contemplate removing to California.

Gen. Lucius Fairchild, recently Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic will give, in the November number of The American Magazine, an account of the origin, aims and work of the Order. The G. A. R. is essentially a great benevolent society; its chief business is to help the needy, and it has kept closely to its work.

THE "SAGEBRUSH STATE."

Pacific Rural Press.

Nevada has come to be popularly known and spoken of as the "Sagebrush State." Though applied to her in derision, the appellation is not altogether a misnomer. She has more acres of sage-land with more sage to the acre than any other country we wot of. The brush grows everywhere and in many places to a large size, resembling on some of the rich bottoms a dwarf tree. So common is the shrub that some have thought the wild artemisia should have been incorporated into Nevada's coat of arms. If, however, the accounts of the Nevada State Fair, now being held at Reno, are not as they come to us greatly exaggerated, it will be found that such general acceptance of the wild sage as the emblem of sterility involves some mistake. The products of the soil displayed at this fair would do no discredit to States noted for agricultural resources. There are on exhibition there horses and neat cattle, hardly inferior to any to be seen elsewhere, with fruits, grains and vegetables of which California herself need not be ashamed, these being all raised in Nevada.

In the early history of that State, mining and stock-raising engaged almost wholly the attention of the inhabitants, nor was it then supposed that the grazing resources of the country were at all extensive. Before the discovery of the Comstock mines some of the cattlemen of California had begun to drive their herds over the Sierras. But their feeding-grounds were then confined to the valleys, which alone it was thought contained any herbage suitable for the subsistence of stock. These valleys, commencing on the north and proceeding south, consisting of Honey Lake, Long, Washoe and Carson, with the Truckee Meadows, a grassy plain of great extent lying on either side of Truckee river, below the present town of Reno. The grass in these valleys, being mostly of the bunch species, afforded both Summer and Winter pasturage. Some hay was made for the horses, but, as a rule, the neat cattle were left to shift for themselves through the Winter.

Later on it came to be discovered that the sage barrens, besides the bunch-grasses growing sparsely there, afforded other kinds of herbage suitable for Winter feeding, the most valuable of these being the white sage and greasewood, both very nutritious. Browsing on the latter, cattle will, where it is abundant, keep in good condition all Winter, even though the snow be quite deep. The finding of so much pasturage outside the valleys and away from the bottom lands along the rivers, gave a great impetus to stock-raising east of the Sierras, this, next to mining, being now the leading interest of Nevada. Owing to the healthfulness of the climate and the sweet and nutritious properties of the herbage, both the beef and the mutton produced in that State are of marked excellence. The Washoe potatoes are also noted for their good qualities, many tons of them being sent yearly to California. Washoe oats bring everywhere an extra price on account of their great weight. The wheat is also heavy and makes excellent flour. More than a thousand horses raised in Nevada find every year a market in this State, besides a much larger number disposed of elsewhere.

According to the last report of the Surveyor-General of Nevada, the State consists of 50,000 square miles of mountain ranges, and 41,000 square miles of what are classed as deserts, the remainder, 21,000 square miles, being rich farming lands, capable of producing with irrigation good crops of grain, grain and vegetables, as well as most kinds of fruit. In this connection it is interesting to observe that latterly it has been observed that less water is required to grow these crops than was formerly the case, the quantity having diminished year by year as the cultivation of the land has increased. Good crops are now being raised in favorable localities without artificial irrigation, this being due to an increment of the Summer rains on the Rocky mountain sides, and on the sandy deserts, where 10 or 12 years ago not a blade of grass was to be seen, there is now good feed. The same has happened on the easterly side of the Sierra, from which the timber has been cut off. Here also the grasses are springing up thickly, where before all was barren. From the changes that are going on, great hopes are entertained of the agricultural future of Nevada, which some of its more sanguine friends believe will yet become a great grain-growing State, not only so, but a few there are who predict that the time will come when the hop and the grape will be successfully grown on these sagebrush lands, and hop-raising and viticulture be here pursued as profitable industries. That this may so turn out is not improbable, both the hop and the grape having been matured in this State and elsewhere in the region formerly known as the Great Utah Basin.

Among the cereals, corn and buckwheat are hazardous crops, the long time they require for maturing exposing them to the early frosts.

What will greatly tend to promote here every branch of agriculture, stock-raising included, is the facility with which water can be obtained by artesian boring. Most of the wells sunk by this method, some of them out on the barren deserts, have proved successful, many of them yielding copiously at moderate depths. Issuing from nearly all the mountain ranges of Nevada are numerous streams of water, some of them of considerable size. Many thousand acres of land can be irrigated by these streams when they come to be utilized for that purpose. Through recourse to dams and reservoirs, the capabilities of this water can be very greatly increased. In the home markets created by the mines, the cattlemen and the cultivators of the soil enjoy here another great advantage, the markets being close at hand, while the prices realized are apt to be good.

The gold and silver mines, of which there are an infinite number scattered over the State, are yielding now at the rate of $10,000,000 per annum, the prospect being that this amount will undergo steady increment for some years to come. In the Eureka district large quantities of lead are turned out every year. Considerable values in salt, soda and borax are also realized annually from the salines of Nevada. She has valuable deposits of iron, copper and sulphur though none of these are being worked at present. This is the only country west of the Rocky Mountains that is now producing nickel in any quantity. The above, though the leading, by no means embrace all the valuable mineral products of Nevada, than which few countries have been more highly endowed with natural wealth.

Despite her sage plains and her sandy deserts, of which latter she has all too much, Nevada is to-day a tolerably prosperous State, with a very encouraging future before her. As with most other sections of the arid interior, the ideas that have generally obtained in regard to their agricultural value have been altogether misleading. They are not the barren regions they were represented to be by their early explorers, who, having traversed them hastily and under conditions of extreme hardship and discomfort, got naturally very unfavorable impressions of what they saw. Already the "Great American Desert" has been expunged from the maps, and it will not be long till this, like the gorges of ancient travelers and the deadly upas tree of Java, will be relegated wholly to the realms of the mythical.

THE WALKER LAKE RESURVEY.

The Esmeralda News says: Now that the boundaries of the Walker Lake Indian Reservation are definitely marked by a re-survey just had under the direction of C. W. Irish, Surveyor General of the State, and the entire lake and much of the land adjoining the same is embraced within the lines; therefore there can be no mistake hereafter about how much belongs to the Indians and how much don't. What a shame it is that such a large sheet of water, teeming with the finest fish, and a territory that is known to contain much precious metal should be set apart for a handful of Pintes, to the entire exclusion of all white people. We are not in favor, by any means, of depriving the Indians of the property, provided that the same is set apart by the Government and the Indians should have the slightest use for the same, but, in this case, it is a well-known fact that the Indians make no use whatever of the mineral belt and are too trifling or lazy to catch the fish that abound in the lake. As we understand, this is what is called an executive reservation, that is to say it was created by an order of the President of the United States, and by him can be abolished. There seems to be no good reason why a proper showing could not be made by the citizens of the county to his Excellency, Grover Cleveland, and thus have the Reservation cut down to the requirements of the Indians, and have the balance thrown open to settlement, etc. Who will take the lead? Petitions and affidavits, to be presented through our Representatives in Congress, will in our opinion have the desired effect.

A PIONEER LEAVES.

The Austin Reveille bids the following farewell to one of Nevada's old stand-bys:

M. J. Farrell, one of Austin's most prominent citizens, and who has been identified for over twenty-four years in the welfare of Austin and its people, leaves with Mrs. Farrell for California this morning. His health has been poor for the last year, and he is in hopes that a change of climate may benefit him. Mr. Farrell entered the Manhattan office on the 15th day of August, 1867, and resigned his position on the 13th of last August, thus holding a position of trust in the Manhattan Company for twenty years.

We can state, without fear of contradiction, that there is no other man in the State who has served a company for this period of one's life—twenty years—and had charge of the accounts as he has had. He was sent from Lander county to the State Senate in 1874, and was re-elected in 1877, serving two terms, where he made an enviable record for himself, and returned holding his constituents' highest respect. Mr. Farrell is known far and wide over the State, and there will be other communities that will regret to hear that he has left his old stamping grounds, and their staunch champion of silver has departed from the State. Friends must part sometime, and the Reveille, in behalf of his legion of friends here, wishes him success in his new field, and that he may speedily regain his health and once more return to us. He will settle down in Grass Valley for the present. Austin deeply regrets his going, and will always bid him welcome to return, and trusts that fortune will favor him. Again farewell.

GOING INTO THE CATTLE BUSINESS.

The Lyon County Times says: Senator Westerfield returned last Tuesday morning from a trip to the headwaters of the Salmon Creek Falls, in Elko county, about 70 miles northwest of Wells. His object in visiting that country was to look at some land which he and other parties are thinking of purchasing for a stock range. The land is situated in a basin and is surrounded by immense forests of nut-pine and mahogany wood, and abundantly watered by the water from Salmon Creek and other streams. The tract is probably as large as half of Lyon county. The scheme is a great one, and Mr. Westerfield believes there is money in it. His report to the other parties interested will, therefore, be very favorable.

ANOTHER PURCHASE.—James Nichol, of Mason Valley, has purchased a fine Cleveland Bay Stallion from Jess Harris of Colorado. Mr. Harris had several of these horses on exhibition at the Reno State Fair, and Mr. Nichol when he saw them concluded it was what was needed in Mason Valley, so he purchased one of the stallions. He paid $3,000 for the animal it is understood.

The Carson Tribune joshes:

It is reported that a six-horse stage will be started to run between Reno and Sacramento to carry a limited number of passengers and the California mail. It will run through Sierra Valley and be able to get to Reno during the Winter months, on time.

The Lyon County Times has this to say:

Is it right that at our State Fair and District Fairs that outsiders should come in and compete for premiums? At the Reno Fair there were quite a number of horses and cattle on exhibit from other States, and we notice that they received first premiums, but how much the premiums were is not known. In the races it was also noticeable that while the outside horses ran for good sized purses the home horses had to run for a mere trifle. This was also the case at the Carson District Fair. There certainly can be no objection to owners of stock bringing it to our Fairs to show, but when they come to compete for prizes it is a question whether it is right or not. The argument may be used that to give them premiums brings more into the State than it takes out, but it must be remembered that it also advertises outside stock instead of that which belongs in the State. Discuss the matter.

RED CANYON.
The Carbonate Mines.

A JOURNAL reporter met Mr. Jerry Rayercraft yesterday in Reno with his brother Ed, and he showed him two specimens of rock from Red Canyon which is 33 miles southeast of Carson, and is known as the Carbonate mine. The rock is a formation of silver and lead and assays $71 per ton average. There are about 9,100 pounds of this ore at the gas house in Reno in sacks now, and it would behoove some of our citizens to go and see for themselves what it is. If this is a success, and we have no reason to think otherwise, the future of Carson is assured. The mine is owned and operated by Jerry Rayercraft, J. B. Murphy, better known as Back, and others. These gentlemen, we think, would dispose of this mine, but were it in our possession, there would be few syndicates formed that could take it out of our hands.

GAS WORKS BURNED.—An alarm of fire from a locomotive standing in the yard here, and the fire bell, aroused the town about half-past three o'clock Sunday morning. One of the out-buildings of the gas works had caught fire, presumably from some carelessness of the man on duty at the time. The amount of pitch wood and inflammable material around the building soon had the whole works enveloped in flames, and before the firemen could get a stream of water on the blaze, nearly all the wood-work around the main building was a mass of ruins. Since the fire the company have had men at work night and day getting the works ready to produce gas, as it was found that the retorts and pipes were not injured enough to be unfit for use. Mr. Thompson is in San Francisco, but N. W. Roff through his untiring efforts succeeded in getting everything in working order, so that our business houses were using gas as usual last evening. The slowness of the fire engine and hose carts getting to the fire shows plainly that something should be immediately done toward a fire department here.

GOOD TIMES FOR TUSCARORA.—After a rest of nearly two years, the Navajo-Indian dependence has started up last Thursday, and the Times-Review predicts that the clatter of its stamps will be heard continuously for two years to come, and furnish a steady stream of bullion shipments which will attract attention to the camp. The ore will be supplied from the North Belle Isle. The Grand Prize will follow suit in about a week or ten days on ore from the Nevada Queen. There will be dividends in a number of the Tuscarora mines before the snow leaves the ground next Spring.

FATHER KELLY.—Rev. Father Kelly left Saturday for Truckee where he celebrated Mass on Sunday. Yesterday morning he left the latter place for Grass Valley, to pay his compliments to Bishop Monogue. During the coming week, with the majority of the Catholic clergy of this Diocese, he will enter into a Retreat and be absent until next Wednesday, a week hence. The Retreat is participated in annually by the Catholic clergy and lasts three days, during which time rigid fasting and the most absolute silence prevails among them.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AT THE PIZEN SWITCH RACES.—Sam Davis Saturday night sent the following dispatch to the Enterprise from Wabaska: This afternoon, at the Pizen Switch races Sadie C. flew the track and ran into a barbed wire fence. Jockey Lee McCullough was thrown. At the present writing (7:10 p. m.) he is unconscious, and fears are entertained of his recovery. The mare is owned by Stollard, of Dayton, and valued at $1,000. She is badly gashed and will be laid up for several months.

"RENO'S POOR FIRE DEPARTMENT."—Under the above head the San Francisco Chronicle has the following dispatch from here, dated the 15th: "An alarm of fire here to-night in the disreputable quarter for a moment threatened the ruin of the best part of the town. The Fire Department would have been inadequate to the emergency should the conflagration have spread. Insurance agents threaten the withdrawal of policies unless a better organization of the Fire Department prevails."

Good News From Como.—Mr. William Maxwell, who is one of the owners of the North Rapidan mine in Como, says that from the 260 level he has rock that will go $35 or $40 per ton, with a small streak that has assayed as high as $2,000. Mr. Maxwell, says the Enterprise, is now at work getting out rock and expects to have in the neighborhood of 25 tons crushed about the first of next month, probably at some of the mills around Silver City or Dayton.

SECOND CROP.—W. L. Bechtel showed us yesterday a fresh blossom from an apple tree growing on the Asylum grounds. Mr. Bechtel says this is the second crop of blossoms that this tree has had this year, and it is at present in full bloom, the tree being loaded with blossoms.

FISH LADDERS.—The Truckee Republican says: "Through the efforts of Deputy Fish Commissioner Moody, fish ladders are being built at the various dams along the river so that hereafter the fish from Pyramid lake can ascend as far as they desire. The Tahoe Ice Co. and Richardson Bros. constructed ways some time ago and now the T. L. Co., the P. L. & W. Co., and the People's Ice Co. are putting in substantial ladders at their dams. It remains, however, for the proprietors of the Essex dam to put in one before any good can be accomplished. Notwithstanding the fact that the Nevada people maintain that the fish can climb over this obstruction, and Fish Commissioner Cary's statement to the same effect, the truth is that it is almost an impossibility for them to do so. Mr. I. C. Frazier recently visited all the dams on the river and of the Essex dam he says that the fish cannot ascend the river above Essex unless a fish ladder is provided. Mr. Frazier's veracity cannot be questioned and he is a disinterested party. The Nevada folks should do something."

THE TWO TRAINS.—The San Francisco Chronicle says the Southern Pacific is still in communication with the Union Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande officials in reference to the proposal to run two overland trains daily between San Francisco and Omaha. If arrangements and proper connections can be made, the plan will probably be adopted. It is understood that the Denver and Rio Grande opposes the scheme, as it could not make two daily trains between Denver and Ogden pay expenses. The Union Pacific officials also feel some misgivings on the financial score, but the reports of the prospects of success for the plan are said to be highly favorable for its adoption. It is not likely that anything definite will be done in the matter for months to come, although the urgent necessity of two daily trains, so far as the Central Pacific is concerned, is becoming more apparent each week.

DID THE RIGHT THING.—Jack Fraser kindly took the few men who worked at the gas house fire Sunday morning into his house and treated them to refreshments. This is something extraordinary, for the firemen generally get nothing but abuse after getting wet to the skin and ruining their clothes. If more people would act as Mr. and Mrs. Fraser did, instead of cursing the firemen while working to the best of their ability, more could be accomplished in the way of a voluntary fire department.

THAT NAUGHTY PAIR.—Superior Judge Van Fleet, at Sacramento, on Friday, rendered a decision in the habeas corpus case of Dr. E. L. Cassells and Mrs. Lily Draper, the lone elopers who were captured in Reno during the State Fair, and held to answer, charged with adultery. The Judge said the fact of an open and notorious adultery had not been established, and Dr. Cassells, who deserted his wife and children, and Mrs. Draper, who left her husband, walked from prison together.

STATE LAND OFFICE.—During the week ending October 14th, nineteen applications for State land were filed embracing 5,109.26 acres. Cash receipts: Payments on application, $1,317 32; payments on contracts, $71 14; interest payments on contracts, $347 38; total, $1,735 84. Selections offered by the State for month ending September 30th, out of the 2,000,000-acre grant were: In Carson City Land District (28,085.57 acres; in Eureka Land District, 29,012 39 acres.

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.—Captain E. McNevin, of San Francisco, an uncle of the late Harry McNevin, of Virginia City, and nephew of the celebrated physician, historian and Irish revolutionist of '98, went up to Virginia yesterday in company with Mr. B. McCreary, to look at the mines. The Captain is on his way to England with some mining properties purchased in California.

THE MOUEL.—Rev. M. Schwartz, a Jewish Rabbi of San Francisco, arrived yesterday morning and remained over. To-day he leaves for Susanville where he will administer the rite of circumcision in a few Jewish families. This process is commonly known as the Mouel.

SABAGES COMING.—Mr. Dan Sobel, owing to an accident occurring to his meat cutter Sunday, was unable to deliver sausage yesterday. This morning, however, he will be on the streets for the purpose of serving his customers.

Mr. Hugh J. Mohan was yesterday appointed by Lieutenant-Governor Davis as agent for the sale of Pleasant Valley coal. Mr. Mohan's orders will be received at Tom Barnett's clothing store, corner Virginia street and Commercial Row.

Mrs. Miller, wife of the proprietor of the Russ House, of Reno, returned from San Francisco last night, where she had been to attend the funeral obsequies of her grandson, Master George Holland.

Eastern capitalists are talking of building a five-set woolen mill at Woodland, Cal., to cost $60,000.

THE COMSTOCK.—The Virginia Chronicle, of Saturday last, says:

Important new ore developments in the Com. Cal. & Va. 1,300 level south drift, 100 feet north of the Best & Belcher line and on the Crown Point 400 level, near the south line, are the most interesting features noted in the annexed official reports of Superintendents, of operations in the Comstock lode mines during the current week. On the date of these developments, shares in the Best & Belcher, Crown Point and Belcher temporarily appreciated sharply in price with active trading, but the variation in value of other leading stocks on the list was very slight.

The Com. Cal. & Va. ore output during the current week shows a daily average of 400 tons which is very nearly double the average daily shipments at any time subsequent to last June. This output will, of course, dispel all further apprehension of a suspension of the payment of regular monthly dividends. At that rate of production and with the present average assay value of ore maintained, a monthly bullion output of over $300,000 is assured, which will leave a margin after deducting the cost of production and the sum disbursed in regular monthly dividends.

Champion S. Chase, ex-Mayor of Omaha, accompanied by his son, and lady members of the family, were here yesterday morning, and while awaiting the arrival of the overland, took a walk around town. He said Reno was the nicest town he had seen since leaving Southern California.

A. A. Andre, Special Agent of the South British Fire and Marine Insurance Company of San Francisco, spent a few days in Virginia, Carson and Reno, and left for the Bay Sunday night. He will be remembered as having been quite a prominent politician in Eureka.

Dr. C. H. Porterfield, the Rupture Specialist, arrived in town last evening and will remain at the Lake House for one week. The Dr. is already well-known here, having successfully treated a number of Reno's citizens during his last visit.

H. G. Ross, of Chicago, and G. N. Fields, of New York, have been at the Depot Hotel for several days, and express themselves highly pleased with the climate and the beautiful surroundings of Reno. They left yesterday for Frisco.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-sw f-1v

BEATS THE LOUISIANA LOTTERY.—For the next sixty days all those who purchase one dollar's worth of groceries at Havenor's Cash Store will receive a ticket in a drawing for a fine gold watch. This is certainly a liberal proposition and all groceries sold at this establishment are fresh and of the best quality, and are disposed of at the lowest retail price. All goods are warranted and if not as represented the purchase price will be refunded. Go and take your chances in the watch.

What Is It
That produces that beautifully soft complexion and leaves no trace of its application or injurious effects? Wisdom's Robotine accomplishes all this, and is pronounced by ladies of taste and refinement to be the most delightful toilet article ever produced. Warranted harmless and matchless. S. J. HODGKINSON & CO. my 24 1yr Agents Va. St., Reno, Nev.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength, and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 Wall St., New York.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR INVESTMENT AND A HOME

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Riverside Avenue Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.
